

Which type of Medical Certificate or Declaration can I use for my licence?

PPL Licence privileges, type of aircraft to be flown and medical requirements table

Licence Held	Type of Aircraft EASA or Non-EASA	Type of Medical Certificate or Declaration
		EU Class 1 or 2 Medical Certificate	EU LAPL Medical Certificate	UK Pilot Medical Declaration (after 25 August 2016)	UK GP Counter-Signed Declaration (valid before 25 August 2016 and until it expires)
EU Part-FCL PPL (A or H) or SPL	EASA	Yes	No	Yes Not permitted for initial PPL applications. Permission required outside of UK (Note 1)	Yes Not permitted for initial PPL applications. Permission required outside of UK (Note 1 & 2)
	Non-EASA
EU Part-FCL LAPL (A or H) or LAPL (S)	EASA		Yes	Yes		Yes Not permitted for initial PPL applications. Permission required outside of UK (Note 1)
	Non-EASA
UK PPL (A), (H) or (G) (Pre-JARFCL)	EASA	LAPL privileges only until 8 April 2020	LAPL privileges only until 8 April 2020 Permission required outside of UK
	Non-EASA	Yes	Yes Permission required outside of UK
UK NPPL (A)	EASA	Until 8 April 2020 (Note 3) Permission required outside of UK
	Non-EASA	Yes Permission required outside of UK

Notes

(1) CAA General Exemption E4764 ORS 4 No. 1283

(2) CAP 393 Schedule 14 Part 3 paragraph 20

(3) CAA General Exemption E4843 ORS 4 No. 1293

CAP 1441 as amended by Light Aircraft Association 13 February 2019